

The Top Ten Reasons for Taking Online AP courses

at SIDES

We provide:

1. the possibility of earning a first year university credit while still in high school.
2. instructors, support staff and course content that enable our online students to consistently outperform the national average on AP exams.
3. a chance to experience post-secondary curriculum before actually attending university or college.
4. the competitive edge when presenting your transcript with your application for college and university admissions' review.
5. the chance to show you're an achiever... that you'll put in extra effort to qualify for the college or university you want to attend.
6. a proven online learning environment through a wide variety of activities that support learning, such as multimedia tutorials, self-checks, and virtual science labs.
7. the opportunity to enhance your grade through participation and completion of various independent tasks in addition to regular course work.
8. assistance in improving your writing and verbal skills and sharpening your problem-solving techniques.
9. help in developing the study habits necessary for tackling rigorous course work.
10. a variety of online communication tools, such as an online calendar, discussion boards, email, and synchronous online session.
